PRESS RELEASE

Ronald Baumhöfer New Sales Manager of Braunform GmbH
Beginning January General Management of BRAUNFORM announced that Mr. Ronald Baumhöfer started his new task as Sales Manager of BRAUNFORM. In this position he is responsible for the strategic and operative sales activities and objectives of BRAUNFORM.

Baumhöfer graduated as mold maker in a company in Bremen. After several years of professional experience, further studies and graduation as master craftsman he took over the management of the technology center of this company. During the last 10 years Mr. Baumhöfer was employed at an internationally namable hot runner company and successfully performed his job as key account manager of this company during the last 5 years.

To be able to achieve the objectives of the company BRAUNFORM further staffed the area of project management and sales in 2008. With Baumhöfer as Sales Manager and 11 employees in the field of project management and sales, BRAUNFORM disposes of a competent and committed team that meets the requirement of the market today and furthermore is able to turn ideas and developments of customers into reality – today and tomorrow.

BRAUN – MOLDING YOUR VISION – BRAUNFORM is one of the internationally leading mold makers. It gained its position with the motto and goal “We offer solutions to produce a product with clean technology by using our core competences mold shop, additional service and efficiency”.

BRAUNFORM offers its customers strong and cost effective solutions both in the area of multi component injection molds as well as in the area of multi cavity and stack molds, says Baumhöfer. With a technically matured technology center as well as a cleanroom GMP class C the service BRAUNFORM completed its service package for customers. Especially due to the synergies with the cleanroom production as well as systems sellings the company gained a lot experience with molds for production in cleanroom as well as the qualification of injection molds and equipment and validation of production processes. Customers of all branches appreciate these benefits.
