inForm.Intro

Dear Readers,

As a forward-looking company, we hold ourselves responsible for the protection of our planet's resources and for the preservation of an intact environment for our and future generations. Our goal is to protect our environment and to constantly improve our energy-related performance. For this purpose, in addition to the quality management system, we also operate an energy management in accordance with DIN EN ISO 50001 and an environmental management in accordance with DIN EN ISO 14001.

During the recertification in February, we were confirmed that we meet the requirements for DIN EN ISO 50001:2011 and DIN EN ISO 14001:2015. The auditors from "TÜV Süd" were convinced that the environmental and energy concept of Braunform is available and sustainably implemented.

We have also made it our mission to support our customers on the topic sustainability. We want to be a pioneer in advising on the topic efficient and thus resource-saving production, as well as the use of plastic materials and articles in terms of material savings.

And spring is already noticeable. The first messengers of spring are already enjoying the warming sunbeams.

Do the same!
Pamela Braun
