Molding your visions

inForm.Intro

Dear Readers,

Only those who are aware of their responsibility can act accordingly. As a regional medium-sized company, we see ourselves as part of society and pay special attention to the social tasks of a company. Thinking long term, acting consciously and giving something back to the community is our motto. Therefore, we follow our social position "Braunform - we act" every year through donations to various institutions and projects proposed by employees with the focus on sustainable support.

With the best wishes for a great summer,
Pamela Braun
